LINES AROUND PARIS TIGHTENED AND GERMAN FORCES DRAW NEARER CITY

Official Statements Regarding the Progress of the War Grow Briefer and Are More and More Lacking in Details—Little Actually Known as to How Armies Fare Afield.

EYES OF THE WORLD NOW TURN TOWARD TURKEY

The Attitude of That Nation Awaited With Anxiety, and the Russian Dispatches Say She is Mobilizing on the Persian Boundary but Slowly—Servians Reported as Victors Over the Austrian Troops.

As the lines around Paris tighten and the German forces draw closer to the French capital the official statements regarding the progress of the war grow briefer and are more and more lacking in details.

So far as the public is concerned, little actually is known as to how the armies in the field are faring. Most of the information made public from official quarters is of a negative character as, for instance, the announcement of the French war office that there has been no contact with the German forces in the region of Compeigne and Senlis since Wednesday, and that the situation in the Northeast has not changed.

The two towns are respectively 45 miles and 32 miles northeast of the French capital, and they appear to mark the points nearest Paris to which the German advance guards have approached.

With the removal of the Government to Bordeaux all efforts around Paris have been directed to preparations for the threatened investment of the capital by the Germans. In addition, the French authorities have ordered aeroplane patrols to guard against any further raids by German aviators. A number of French aeroplanes are continually flying in the neighborhood of Paris, and others kept in readiness to attack any of the German air men who appear in the sky.

The attitude of Turkey is awaited with anxiety and Petrograd (St. Petersburg) dispatch says she is mobilizing on the Persian boundary, but slowly.

Another list of British casualties, officially reported at London numbers casualties at 5,228, of whom 470 are killed and wounded, and 4,758 are missing. The list shows a large percentage of officers.

PARIS STILL UNCONCERNED.

Gay City Looks Upon Removal of Capital Without Apprehension.

Paris, Sept. 3.—Paris again today showed its remarkable adaptability to circumstances. Though all allusions to such a contingency had been strictly forbidden in the newspapers, the government would be transferred to Bordeaux was an open secret several days ago among journalists and public officials and in military circles.

Among these persons the effect of the announcement had been largely discounted. The public, after its first surprise, is viewing the situation with composure and tonight seems to be a better feeling all around.

Military secrets are being as well guarded that all reference to them is largely speculation, but it is a reasonable supposition that General Joffre prefers to accept a decisive battle against the Germans in front of the forts and the entrenched camp of Paris.

The Temps this evening printed another article in which it predicted final success for the allies.

The Liberte quotes an English officer who arrived here tonight from Pierrefitte, 25 miles southeast of Pau, as saying he was wounded in a fierce battle near Compeigne in which the Germans were driven back several times with heavy losses. He said the French and English offensive was successful over a front of several miles, the Germans retreating toward the left.

GERMANS CAPTURE AMIENS.

Dispatch to London From the French City Declares City Surrendered.

London, Sept. 4.—A dispatch from Amiens, France, to the Daily Mail, dated Tuesday, September 1, declares that the Germans have taken possession of Amiens after three days fighting.

The dispatch to the Daily Mail from Amiens adds that the success of the Germans at Moruili made the capture of Amiens certain. The entry was not unopposed. The mayor after receiving a German envoy, announced the surrender of the city and urged the citizens to make no disturbance.

"It was 7 o'clock Sunday evening," says the Mail's correspondent when a party of Uhlans entered Amiens. After a brief reconnaissance they retired to the German main body at Campon. A half hour later they returned accompanied by an envoy bearing a white flag. The latter interviewed Mayor Figuat at the town hall. After an hour's discussion the mayor appeared in front of the town hall with trumpeters and officially announced the surrender of the city. He urged that the citizens make no disturbance.

Met Victims in Carriages.

"Later the mayor and the municipal councilors drove out in carriages to pay a formal visit to the German commander, who told them that they would be held responsible with their lives for the good conduct of the citizens.

"The Germans thereupon went to the town hall where they hauled down the French flag and hoisted the German colors. The German troops began entering the city about midday Monday morning when they came, 'Die Wacht am Rhein' and 'Deutschland über Alles.' No time was wasted however, as the orders were to move swiftly out on the high road to Paris. Only a few men were left to guard the city. The only casualties in connection with the German occupation were those of a chauffeur who was shot at the gates because he did not stop quickly at the order of the sentry and that of a local sausage-maker who got into a war of words with some troopers over the price of his wares.

"With the Germans entered Amiens the French retired to Piquigny, eight miles northwest of Amiens, blowing up both bridges over the Somme.

WOUNDED REACH BERLIN

Mostly Come From East Prussia—English Prisoners in Germany.

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Evening News from Copenhagen says: "Great numbers of wounded are arriving in Berlin daily. The trains are not unloaded until dark in order to avoid undue curiosity on the part of the public. The wounded are mostly from East Prussia.

"Princess Louise of Belgium, has been ordered to leave Vienna within 24 hours.

The correspondent says one-third of wounded have been shot in the legs or feet which fact is attributed to the Russian practice of firing from the knee. The Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha has given up his office of Colonel in chief of the Seaforth Highlanders on the ground that it is unsuitable for a German Duke to be chief of a regiment which has 'shamelessly fallen upon Germany.'

British prisoners have arrived at Dunster Camp in the Province of Hanover from France, Belgium and French

DELIVERS MESSAGE TO CONGRESS TODAY

Both Houses Are to Meet in Joint Session.

TO THE PRESIDENT

Legislation to Create Emergency Fund to Cover Expected Deficiency in Treasury. Suggests No Plan.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Congress will meet in joint session tomorrow afternoon to hear President Wilson's message asking for a $200,000,000 measure that will provide $100,000,000. A concurrent resolution providing for the joint session was adopted today in both Houses.

It is understood the President will confine his message to the presentation of the necessity for emergency revenues without suggesting the means for raising the funds. It is said to be his desire, however, that the tax fall not too heavily upon any particular class of citizens.

The President submitted the message today to Representative Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee, which will frame the revenue bill. The latter communicated to the President the framework of the tax plan and his associates have proposed to meet the expected deficit caused by the falling off in customs receipts.

Mr. Underwood said later the plan "was calculated to produce $100,000,000 by an internal revenue tax on a very few commodities" but would not discuss it further.

It has been carefully guarded as Congressmen have "been told" that the administration desires to have the method of taxation clearly determined before it is made known, in order to avoid interference from various interests to be affected. The measure will be ready for introduction early next week.

President Wilson today told callers he did not expect the war tax measures to be in effect for a long time. He pointed out that if the tariff had not been changed before the beginning of the war, the deficit in the treasury would be greater. Under the new tariff, he said, the finances of the Treasury do not depend as largely upon the tariff as formerly.

CARRANZA IS STILL THE "FIRST CHIEF"

Of the Constitutionalists, to the United States.

NOT RECOGNIZED YET

Must First Select Temporary President to Serve Until One Only Elected—Troops Will Then Be Withdrawn.

Washington, Sept. 3.—So far as the United States is concerned, General Carranza is not provisional President of Mexico, but "first chief of the Constitutional army" in temporary charge of the executive power of the Republic.

President Wilson himself so explained the status of the Mexican executive in discussing Mexican affairs with callers today. Mr. Wilson said that so far as he had been informed Carranza did not style himself "Provisional President."

The significance of the President's explanation lies in the fact that General Villa informed the United States that during the conference at Torreon, when the first Villa-Carranza break was adjusted, an agreement was reached for a convention of all generals and representatives of the army in Mexico City to designate a provisional president. Villa made it clear that if Carranza were selected, he could not, under the constitution, be a candidate to succeed himself in the general election.

It is considered likely in official circles that when a provisional president is chosen recognition will be extended though American forces probably will not be withdrawn from Vera Cruz until after an election is held.

BIG TIMES ARE PLANNED.

At Star Spangled Banner Celebration at Baltimore Next Week.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Rear Admiral Frank Fletcher who assumes command of the Atlantic fleet this month, will represent the Navy Department at the Star Spangled Banner celebration in Baltimore next week. He will command the fleet ordered to Baltimore, hoisting his flag on the old frigate Constellation.

President Wilson will not be able to attend the celebration, it was announced today, and Secretary Bryan will represent him.

U. S. REFUSED PASSAGE THROUGH DARDANELLES

Request of State Department That Cruiser North Carolina be Allowed to Pass Through Straits, Carrying Gold to the Americans at Constantinople is Denied—Turkey Declares Passage is Minced and Trip Would be Dangerous.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Turkey has declined to grant the request of the United States for permission to send the cruiser North Carolina through the Dardanelles to Constantinople to deliver $150,000 in gold deposited here for the relief of Americans in the Ottoman Empire.

The Grand Vizier has informed the American government that the waters of the Dardanelles are mined and it would not be safe for a vessel as large as the North Carolina to go through the straits. He declared also that it might establish a precedent for passage of other warships and suggested that the American naval yacht Scorpion, on duty in Turkish waters, be sent to sea to meet the North Carolina.

This was the substance of a long cablegram received at the White House and State Department today from Ambassador Morgenthau, the first message from him in several days. The ambassador made no mention of any declaration of war, but referred to the diplomatic situation as highly critical.

The ambassador reported that all Americans who wished to leave had done so, and he thought funds aboard the North Carolina would be sufficient for immediate needs.

May Adopt Suggestion.

In view of the delicate situation, the American ambassador suggested that the plan of sending the Scorpion to meet the North Carolina outside the straits be adopted. The incident was discussed at the Navy and State Departments today and the North Carolina, now at Falmouth, England, will start tomorrow for the Mediterranean. She probably will touch at Italian ports and take aboard Assistant Secretary Breckinridge, reaching the Dardanelles in a week or ten days.

By the time of her arrival officials here expect Turkey will have declared war on either Russia or Great Britain. In that event they deem it more prudent to keep the cruiser away from the scene of possible naval conflicts.

RESERVE BOARD TO SET OPENING DATE

For Reserve System at Meeting to be Held Today.

MEMBERS CONFIDENT

Amendments to Liberalize the Federal Reserve Act Are Reported Favorably to Senate by Banking Committee.

Washington, September 3.—The time for opening the new Federal Banking System probably will be determined tomorrow at a conference here between Federal Reserve Board members and representatives of clearing house associations in twenty large cities.

Members of the board it is known believe the new system can be put into actual operation within a short time without financial danger or marked inconvenience to banks or to business generally. Bankers, however, have expressed views at variance with this, and at the conference tomorrow board members hope to convince the bankers that an early opening is to be desired.

There is no apparent desire on the part of the board to hasten the opening of the system, but it has reached the conclusion that the transfer from the present national banking system, with its corollary of the Aldrich-Vreeland Act, can be accomplished with little friction and practically no inconvenience.

Foreign Indebtedness.

The conference will take up also the question of the foreign indebtedness of American merchants, hoping to find a solution without payment to Europe of large amounts of gold. No exact figures are at hand, but the clearing house associations have secured several days ago to collect all available information on the amount involved.

It is probable the Board will take the bankers into its confidence tomorrow and discuss proposed amendments to the new banking act. Continuous discussion by the Board has narrowed the field down to less than a half dozen amendments and these were ordered favorably reported today by the Senate committee. They are still before the House committee.

Delegates elected to attend the conference include John M. Miller, Jr., and Thomas B. McAdams, Richmond, Va.; C. C. Homer, Jr., Baltimore.

LIBERALIZE THE ACT.

Senate Banking Committee Favorably Reported Amendments to Law.

Washington, September 3.—Amendments to liberalize the Federal Reserve Act were ordered favorably reported today by the Senate Banking committee. They would permit the Federal Reserve Board to postpone payment of the second and subsequent installments of stock subscription of member banks at any time within four months reserve requirements for member banks. They would permit member banks to carry in the Federal Reserve banks any portion of their reserves now required to be held in their own vaults, and allow them to count as part of their legal reserves, Federal reserve notes up to 5 per cent. of their net deposits.

Other amendments would permit member banks to incur additional liabilities on account of endorsement of foreign bills of exchange, two-name commercial bills, and bills of lading, bank and such acceptances as are permitted under rules of the board, not to exceed twice the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank.

They would also permit bills bought in the open market to be used as basis for the issue of Federal Reserve notes and authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to designate the Federal Reserve banks as agents of the United States and of member banks in the redemption of bank notes in circulation including the Vreeland-Aldrich emergency currency notes. The amendments provide also for a system of clearance between the Treasury, Federal Reserve banks and the member banks.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

A "NECESSARY MAKESHIFT"

Managing Editor of San Francisco Paper so Speaks of Wage Trouble.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—Collective bargaining is only a "necessary makeshift," Fremont Older, manager editor of the San Francisco Bulletin told the Federal Industrial Relations commission today, when asked to suggest a better method of adjusting wage scales.

"I think changing the ideal of society from mere getting to an altruistic point of view would be better," he said.

"How would you apply your view practically?" asked Commissioner Weinstock.

"I don't say it could be applied practically," replied Older.

"You asked me if I could think of a better plan than collective bargaining," he said.

The witnesses declared the community benefits by the closed shop because it diverts the worker more money to spend. He said that under the open shop the meanest man in town can set the wages.

Andrew J. Gallagher, president of the San Francisco labor council told the commission that labor leaders do not regard the McCormack brothers as martyrs. Grant Fee, a contractor had declared that such a sentiment existed.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 3.—Urey Woodson, secretary of the Democratic national committee from 1904 to 1910 to day was chosen to fill the vacancy on that committee caused by the recent death of John C. Mayo, at a meeting here of the Kentucky Democratic central and executive committees.

EARLY ACCOUNT OF THE MOBILIZATION

Story Received in America by Mail from Berlin.

GERMANY PREPARED

Mobilization Orders Were Carried Out Like Clock Work Is Report That Associated Press Correspondent Makes.

(Correspondence of Associated Press.) Berlin, Aug. 22.—The departure of Emperor William "in the direction of Mayence" (that is as much as the press was permitted to know or report about it) may be said to mark the beginning of this great European war, so far as Germany is concerned.

As in 1870, the more important of the Emperor's advisors went to the front with him. The party included Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg, Secretary of State Von Jagow, War Minister Von Falkenhayn, and other high governmental and army officials. The plan of campaign is that thought out many years ago and never since departed from—to bend all energies at the very outset to the smashing of Germany's western neighbor, Russia.

No one can come in daily contact with the officers of the general staff without being impressed with their confidence in an eventual and absolute victory.

That the cost will be terrifically high is not for a moment doubted, but the men in charge of operations are determined to make any sacrifice, no matter how appalling.

The people are inclined to understate the size of the mobilization of German arms. They are, however, ready to pay the cost of victory, however great it may be.

Like Clock Work.

A marked feature of the situation has been the wonderful manner in which the German mobilization was carried out. Everything was prepared in advance. There was not, during the whole process, a single question from any person in charge of any branch of the work. Not one instruction had been misunderstood. An illustration of the thorough preparation of the general staff is the experience of America's military attaché, Major Langhorne, who called on War Minister Von Falkenhayn in the midst of the mobilization. Major Langhorne began to excuse himself for intruding at such a busy time.

"Come in, major," said Von Falkenhayn, "I am not particularly busy. I haven't anything to do."

The Associated Press correspondent dined with General Von Falkenhayn on the 11th day of the mobilization. The dinner lasted from 6 o'clock until 11 and during the whole time there was but one interruption and that by one officer with whom the General exchanged a few words and who then left.

A striking feature of the organization about the general staff is the fact that one department has absolutely no knowledge of what is going on in the other's. Each officer has his particular work to do and nothing else. Many of the busiest high officers in the staff know less about the course of affairs to date than is known by the general public.

The only department of the general staff, which has not been systematically in advance was the press department, which is not yet working smoothly.

People Are Enthusiastic.

There is no denying the fact that the dozen different officers in charge of the distribution of news and its censorship and one is disposed to admit dispatches of which the other will not hear.

The enthusiasm of the people for the war passes all bounds, and continues to increase, if that be possible. There is no longer any party line. In times of peace the ruler has often called the Social Democrats "fellows without a country," together with less pleasant names. The sale of Socialist newspapers at the semi-official Lokale Anzeiger and Cologne Gazette, Simplicissimus, the widely known satirical paper, which sharply caricatures pretty nearly all existing State institutions in times of peace, has suspended publication because it feels as it announced that the present is no time to caricature internal affairs; besides, one of its editors is at the front.

Hocals and bar rooms owned by Socialists, or where Socialists were wont to gather, long have been forbidden to soldiers in uniform. Troops commanders throughout the country generally have revoked this military boycott. The commanding general has seen fit to issue a general order, re-banning a military band which discriminated against Socialists in hiring men to do work of various kinds for the army.

News Extremely Meagre.

So far the news giving out by the general staff has been extremely meagre, but the people accept this condition in the same spirit with which they look upon the war. There is a full realization of the necessity for keeping troops movements secret and full confidence that the general staff will issue its reports as rapidly as the exigencies of the situation will allow. The newspapers of every opinion conform readily to regulations of a severity rarely exemplified in the world's history.

The confidence in the reports of the general staff is complete and general, and despite the fact that it is now apparent that the reports have thus far told only part of the story. To date, the Germans appear to have made probably more than 10,000 prisoners. Of these, 1,000 were taken at Lagarde, 2,000 at Muelhausen, 4,000 at Liege, 3,000 at St. Allouphon, and probably more than 1,000 others in skirmishes on both fronts.

CARDINAL DELLA CHIESA MADE POPE

Archbishop of Bologna, Italy, to Succeed Late Pius.

NAME OF BENEDICT XV

Was Made a Cardinal Last May by the Pope Whom He Succeeded—Account of Proclamation and Election Given.

Rome, Sept. 3.—The Sacred College of Cardinals today elected Cardinal Giacomo Della Chiesa, archbishop of Bologna, supreme pontiff to succeed the late Pope Pius X. His coronation as Benedict XV. will take place September 6th.

Immediately after his election the pontiff said he could not imagine how his frail being could endure the enormous weight of responsibility thrown on his shoulders, especially at a moment when almost all the countries of Europe were stained with blood, when wounds inflicted upon humanity also was inflicted on the church and when countless victims were being cut down.

The war, he said, had armed faithful against faithful, priest against priest, while bishops of each country offered prayers for the success of the army of his own nation. But victory for one side meant slaughter to the other, the destruction of children equally dear to the heart of the pontiff.

The conclave of the Sacred College has been in session since the evening of Monday, August 31st and the final vote was not taken until this morning. When the name of Cardinal Della Chiesa was tried out by the Cardinal Electors as having received the prescribed two thirds vote there was much excitement among the members of the conclave.

Followed Traditional Formula.

Then followed the traditional formula, the cardinal being asked as to whether he accepted the election. Amid breathless silence he answered in the affirmative, but his reply, owing to profound emotion, was scarcely audible. Immediately all the cardinals removed before the chair where Cardinal Della Chiesa, Monsignor Poggiani secretary of the conclave, with the master of ceremonies, the dean of the cardinals and other high church dignitaries bowed before the chair where Cardinal Della Chiesa was seated.

He asked if the cardinal would accept the Pontificate, and upon an affirmative reply all the cardinals removed before the throne where Cardinal Della Chiesa was seated. In answer to the question of the dean on the cardinals, the new pope said he desired to take the name of Benedict XV.

Monsignor Poggiani, assisted by the other officials, recorded the act of the election and the acceptance, and immediately all the cardinals entered the Sistine Chapel with the pope. The pontiff was clothed in a flowing white robe, red slippers and high stock, with a broad red sash. Cardinal Della Chiesa placed on his shoulders a red stole, embroidered with gold. The pope then mounted the throne to receive the homage of the cardinals.

Repose His Holiness.

The cardinal first kissed the feet and then the hands of the pontiff, who administered the accolade and pronounced the benediction. Cardinal Della Chiesa placed on the pontiff's finger the fisherman's ring which the pope returned to Monsignor Damico, to have engraved with his name.

The pontiff proceeded from the Sistine chapel to the Basilica of St. Peter where he gave a benediction. He returned to the Sistine chapel where the second act of homage by the cardinals was accorded to him.

When the pope was asked to present himself before the people for the first benediction he turned to Cardinal Merry Del Val, papal secretary of state and said: "I hope I shall have strength to overcome my emotion."

Crowds outside clamored to see the new pontiff and several of the cardinals including Cardinals Gibbons, Farley and O'Connell, tried to climb the scaffolding and obtain a glimpse.

The excitement reached a climax when the pope finally emerged. He was alone and a hush fell over the multitude. All knelt, and the pontiff raised his hand, with three fingers outstretched, and imparted with melodious voice the apostolic blessing. A great cheer rang out as he turned to withdraw.

Even in the conclave, the election of the new pope caused much excitement. The cardinals surrounded him and addressed to him their greetings and congratulations in Latin. All wished to be given privilege to kiss his hand. The pontiff embraced the American cardinal tenderly and said he appreciated the efforts that had made to come to Rome for the conclave, at such personal discomfort.

Rome, Sept. 3.—Cardinal Giacomo Della Chiesa, archbishop of Bologna, Italy, was today elected supreme pontiff of the Catholic hierarchy in succession to the late Pope Pius X. who died August 20th. He will reign under the name of Benedict XV.

The conclave of the Sacred College, whose duty it is to elect the Pope, went into session the evening of Monday, August 31st. The announcement of the outcome of its deliberations was made this morning shortly after 11 o'clock.

Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, and Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, are on board the steamer Canopic which is not due at Naples until tomorrow. They were on their way to attend the conclave, consequently neither of them participated in the election of the new pontiff.

TWO FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF STORM AND FLOOD

Wrought $5,000,000 Damage to East Carolina

September 3, 1913, a Day Long to be Remembered by the People of Newbern, Washington and All That Section.

(Special Star Correspondence.) Newbern, N. C., Sept. 3.—Today is the first anniversary of the most destructive storm and flood which ever visited Eastern North Carolina, a storm which caused an actual loss of approximately five million dollars and one from which this section has not entirely recovered. One year ago this morning the citizens of Newbern and other towns in a radius of 75 miles on the Atlantic coast, awoke to find that during the night the water had backed up the water of Albemarle and Pamlico sounds and that they were rushing inland.

In this city the water came up Neuse river water estimated at 15 miles an hour and at 8 o'clock it was 15 feet above the high water mark. At Oriental, where the altitude is slightly lower, the water was up to the principal street of the city and the loss was unusually heavy. At Ocracoke, where the ocean and sound meet, the storm and flood played great havoc and practically every dwelling on the island was either damaged or washed from its foundations.

All communication with the outside world was cut off for 24 hours and the extent of the damage was not known until the following day. On the 4th of September a lone telegraph wire out of Newbern was secured and the story of the catastrophe told to the world. It will interest newspaper men to know that on that day approximately 10,000 words of "press" were sent out on that day alone and on the following day about 25,000.

A Dose of Cautions Hit Hard. Kinston, N. C., Sept. 3.—On this day one year ago the most destructive storm in its history devastated Tidewater North Carolina and wreaked damage to the extent of $5,000,000 in the section east of here. The loss was shipping, farming and mercantile interests. Today nearly every vestige of the great gale has disappeared and the stricken towns are in better condition than before the calamity which proved an ultimate blessing and put all classes to work in the common interest when recuperation set in.

On September 3, 1913, the gale swept over Kinston, Newbern, Washington and the country surrounding those places, and the business sections of the last-named two were inundated by a tidal wave. The water from Pamlico river was driven by the tremendous force of the wind into Washington until the whole place was submerged from two to ten feet. The three bridges crossing the river there swept away, nearly all the shipping at the docks destroyed, and more than $1,000,000 damage done to business.

Kinston, although feeling the full strength of the wind, escaped with the principal damage to the agricultural community. Greene, Lenoir, Duplin, Onslow, Jones, Craven, Wayne, Carteret, Sampson, Beaufort, Pamlico, Hyde and Dare counties all suffered more or less from the storm.

CHANGE OF VENUE IS DENIED CHARLOTTE GUNMEN Will be Arraigned Today—Attorneys Complain at Newspapers.

(Special Star Telegram.) Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 3.—Alleging that newspaper articles which referred to their clients as "gunmen" and "parasites" had inflamed the public mind in Mecklenburg county until it would be impossible to get an unprejudiced jury attorneys for the four white men, Knotts, Thayer, (Harris, and Moore), and Sykes, charged with way-laying and assaulting Officers Elliott and Moore, of the Charlotte police force, some months ago, asked today that the trial of the case be taken up in some other county.

Judge Shaw denied the motion. Then the defendants' attorneys asked for a continuance of the case, on the ground that they had not had time to confer with their clients because they had been confined in Rowan and Guilford county jails where the prisoners were taken the day after the shooting for safety. This motion also was denied, and the men will be arraigned at the opening of court tomorrow morning.

R. A. R. MAY CAMP IN WASHINGTON NEXT YEAR.

Most of Yesterday Spent in Talking Over Cities for Encampment.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 3.—The 48th national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic spent much of today considering a city for next year's encampment. Many argued that the nation's capital would be a fitting place, as 1915 will mark the 50th anniversary of the close of the Civil War. The selection will be made Saturday.

The annual address of Commander-in-Chief Gardner was the feature today. The United States Veteran Signal Association elected George Carr, Remel, Manassas, Va., president.

U. S. REFUSED PASSAGE THROUGH DARDANALLES

(Continued from Page One.) The allies against Turkey if the latter declares war. The expectation also is growing that Italy is preparing to side with the allies. If she intended to stand by Germany and Austria they believe, notification already would have been sent to Italian ships to stay in neutral ports and avoid British war vessels.

BRECKENRIDGE LOCATED.

Whereabouts of Assistant Secretary of War Breckenridge. Washington, Sept. 3.—A clew to the whereabouts of Assistant Secretary of War Breckenridge, custodian of gold sent to Americans in Europe, reached the State Department today in a message from Ambassador Page at London who said the Assistant Secretary had sent a telegram while en route to Vienna. Mr. Breckenridge reported that 150 Americans in Austria desired transportation home. Today's message was the first intimation in two days as to the Secretary's whereabouts.

ANTI-TRUST PROGRAMME A DAY NEARER FINISHED

The Conference Committee Reach Agreement on Bill.

Federal Commission Bill Will be Favorably Reported to Both Houses by Committee Today—Changes in Several Places.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Completion of the administration anti-trust program was advanced a day when the committee on the Federal commission bill reached an agreement. The conference report will be submitted in both houses tomorrow.

Although the conference re-wrote many sections relating to the organization of the new commission, the changes were largely matters of phraseology. Principal changes relate to the provisions for court review, appeals from decree to the commission to be made direct to the court of appeals, from which there can be no appeal until upon writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court.

Prohibition of "unfair methods of competition" is substituted for "unfair competition" by the conferees, who made no attempt to define what constituted an unfair method. Wide divergence of views of the district courts in patent cases was the argument which led to the determination to provide for review in the court of appeals direct. Danger of conflict, it is argued, thus would be greatly reduced, there being only eight circuit courts of appeals, while there are 30 district courts.

The Clayton anti-trust bill, passed yesterday by the Senate went to conference today. An agreement on this measure will complete the program.

Prince Chigi-Albani, one of the assistants to the throne in the pope's household, was notified at a quarter past 11 o'clock that Cardinal Della Chiesa had been elected.

At 20 minutes past 11 o'clock, Monsignor Macielati, subprefect of the Sacred Palaces and governor of the papal city, received a communication from the new pope asking that the gratings of the basilica of St. Peter be opened because he purposed in a short time to issue his proclamation.

At this hour—11:30—the master of ceremonies appeared on the central balcony of St. Peter and spread out the red carpet. The crowd below, which had been waiting for hours in the stifling heat, burst into a shout of joy. The people applauded vigorously.

At 25 minutes before 12 o'clock Cardinal Della Voipe appeared on the balcony with Monsignor Capostesi bearing the Pope's cross on his right, and pronounced the ritual announcing the election of Cardinal Della Chiesa. To this he added that the new pope had chosen the name of Benedict XV.

Again the crowd of several thousand persons cheered and at once began to make their way into the Basilica to hear the benediction of the new pontiff.

At 15 minutes before 12, the new pope appeared on an inner balcony of St. Peter's and in his pontifical robes. The pontiff pronounced the apostolic benediction to the kneeling crowd below and immediately afterwards withdrew and entered his apartments.

It is asserted on good authority in Rome today that the new pope will appoint Cardinal Domenico Ferrati his secretary.

Who New Pope Is. Cardinal Giacomo Della Chiesa who was today elected pope by the Sacred College in succession to Pius X., was created a Cardinal May 25th 1914. He is the archbishop of Bologna, Italy.

He was born at Rebi, in the Diocese of Goss Novembris, 1854 and was ordained a priest December 21st, 1878. He served as secretary of the Nonciature in Spain from 1883 to 1887 in which year he was appointed Secretary to the late Cardinal Rampolla.

He was appointed substitute secretary of state in 1901 and in 1907 he was elected to the post of adviser to the Holy office.

In 1907 he was appointed Papal Nuncio of Madrid in succession to Monsignor Rinaldi, but this appointment was cancelled three days later.

In January 1914 while still at Bologna the present pope issued a pastoral letter strongly condemning the tango.

It has been 174 years since the time of the last Pope Benedict. On his election to the Papacy in 1740 Cardinal Prospero Lambertini assumed that title. It is an interesting fact that the new pope was archbishop of Bologna while Pope Benedict XIV was born in Bologna.

Or Italian Birth. The choice falls on a Cardinal of Italian birth, as was expected from tradition and also from the disturbed conditions in Europe which militated against the selection of a pope outside of the Italian hierarchy. It was at once apparent that the new pope was ordained in the priesthood. He soon attracted the attention of Cardinal Rampolla, later secretary of state for Pope Leo XIII. When Cardinal Rampolla was made nuncio to Madrid, he took Monsignor Della Chiesa with him as secretary of Nunciature. On Cardinal Rampolla's return to Rome to become secretary of state for the Vatican, Monsignor Della Chiesa entered the secretariat of state as one of the "minutami" or minor officials until 1901, when he was appointed substitute of the secretariat, and also Secretary of the Cypher.

As Secretary to the Secretary of State, Cardinal Della Chiesa was brought into notable prominence throughout the Catholic hierarchy, but his position was not at that time of cardinal rank. On the accession of Pope Pius X., Monsignor Della Chiesa continued in the secretariat until December 16th, 1907 when Pius X. gave him a noted promotion to the position of archbishop of the important See of Bologna.

For seven years he administered the See of Bologna with notable success until in May last, Pope Pius X. named him among thirteen members of the hierarchy to receive the Red hat.

LINES AROUND PARIS TIGHTENED; GERMAN FORCES DRAW NEAR

prisoners also are arriving. The latter are mainly Zouaves. The British make very few prisoners. The German forces are exceedingly downcast. Prisoners from the Russian guards also greatly impress their captors with their size and strength.

NO GERMAN PORTS BLOCKADED.

American Ambassador So Writes State Department. Washington, Sept. 3.—The Department of State today gave out the following mail dispatch from the American ambassador at Berlin dated August 19, quoting a statement given out by the official press bureau in Berlin, August 16th:

"The proposition which prevails in neutral foreign countries that German ports are blockaded and traffic by water with Germany cut off, is incorrect," it says. "No port is blockaded and there is nothing in the way preventing communication by way of ships with neutral states from Germany. Neutral ships bound for German North Sea ports must steer by day for a point ten miles northwest of Heligoland. Thereafter they are free to proceed to conduct the ships into the German ports."

"Neutral ships must steer directly for Baltic ports. There are pilots available for every port. Bunker coaling is still allowed."

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

Report Given Out at London as to the Killed, Wounded and Missing. London, Sept. 3.—The official bureau issues a further statement of British casualties as follows:

Killed—18 officers, 63 other ranks. Wounded—18 officers, 312 other ranks. Missing—86 officers, 4,673 other ranks.

The official bureau explains that the missing mentioned in the list of casualties are men not accounted for and included unwounded prisoners and stragglers as well as killed or wounded.

As regards the "other ranks," it is stated that 2,683 men are returned as having been sent back to their base as unfit and that a large proportion of these will be included in the number shown as missing in this and the previous report from general headquarters.

In the report of casualties received tonight the names of the officers were not given. Only their next of kin have been notified. The names of the other ranks have been received, but a number of wounded already have been brought home.

TRADES UNION APPROVES.

Of Efforts of the House of Commons to Stimulate Recruiting.

London, Sept. 3.—The parliamentary committee of the Trades Union Congress has issued a manifesto expressing approval of the efforts which the labor members in the House of Commons are making in conjunction with the representatives of other parties to stimulate recruiting.

The manifesto states that in the event of the voluntary system of military service proving inadequate at the present time, the need would result in greatly strengthening the advocacy of compulsory service. Accordingly, the members of the nation should rally to the defense of the country in such numbers as will demonstrate to the world that a free people can rise to the supreme heights of great sacrifice without the whip of conscription.

AFRICANS JOINING.

British Possessions in South Africa Are Recruiting Natives.

London, Sept. 3.—The correspondent of the Reuters Telegram Company at Cape Town, Union of South Africa, sends the following:

"The magistrates in the Transkei territories (a division on the east coast of Cape Colony), the population of which is 1,000,000, have been traveling among the natives upon instructions from the government explaining the war situation.

Tens of thousands have been addressed and the natives have been enthusiastically offered their service to the government. This is typical of the striking unanimity prevailing among every degree of civilization throughout South Africa."

RESCUED VALUABLE PAINTING.

Daring Man Rushed Through German Lines to Antwerp to Get It.

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from The Hague says:

"One of Rubens' famous masterpieces which long had hung in the church of Notre Dame at Malines, Belgium, and which was thought to be in danger of destruction by German shells, was saved by M. DeMont, steward of the Royal Museum at Antwerp."

M. DeMont, learning that the Germans were bombarding Malines, rushed from Antwerp in a motor car and at great personal risk brought back the painting to Antwerp, passing through the German lines at various points. The painting was given into the custody of King Albert."

AWAIT GERMAN AIRCRAFT.

Crowds Eager to See Battle Over Paris But German Didn't Show Up.

Paris, Sept. 3.—Paris was disappointed today because no German aeroplane flew over the city. Crowds gathered in various places from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until 7 to watch for the aeroplanes, but none came.

Several French machines patrolled the sky ready to engage the enemy. Many persons have been astonished that the French aviators have not given chase to hostile machines flying over the city. It is explained however, that only a plunging fire is effective against aeroplanes and that over a city a machine gunner could risk to more lives from bullets that miss the mark than are endangered by bombs.

The plan now is for the French machines, which are on patrol duty to pursue the German aviators into the open country and give battle there.

WANTS SWITZERLAND TO ENTER.

Germany Making Effort to Get Mountain Country to Join War.

London, Sept. 3.—Telegraphing from Stockholm the Star correspondent says: Great anxiety is felt in Sweden capital because of efforts Germany is making, as shown by articles in the German newspapers to induce Sweden to abandon her attitude of neutrality and take the field as an ally of Germany. The object sought is to weaken the Russian attack in East Prussia by means of a Swedish attack on Finland.

WAR BULLETINS

Rome, Sept. 3.—By way of Paris a telegram from Nish, Serbia, says that in a battle at Jadar, between 100,000 Austrians and 150,000 Serbians, the latter put 140,000 Austrians "hors de combat."

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Central News from Amsterdam says that fresh fighting is taking place near Malines, Belgium.

Paris, Sept. 3.—The government will issue a proclamation tomorrow transferring the Bank of France from Paris to Bordeaux.

Petrograd (St. Petersburg) via London, Sept. 3.—Turkish mobilization on the Persian boundary is slow. Many Christians and Kurds have refused to join the movement. The Turks are forcibly enrolling all persons of military age. There has been no serious conflict between Turks and Armenians at Adia, Turkish Armenia.

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Central News from Copenhagen says that a message received at Berlin reports the receipt of advices from Austrian army headquarters stating that Russia is transporting ammunition continuously by way of the Danube to the mouth of the Dnieper. The extensive measures are being taken preparatory to the dispatch of Russian troops to Serbia.

London, Sept. 3.—An undated French dispatch to the Times says: "The valley of the Somme has been abandoned by the Germans. They are obliged to retire Saturday evening."

"The right wing of the Germans," says the correspondent, "is too far advanced to be able to meet the British. The British are being cut and caught between two fires if the British should be found in force. Our center is resting very well and the right wing of our army appears to be taking the offensive."

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Star from Athens, says: "The Servians are sending as many troops as possible to reinforce those already at the river Drina. There is no truth in the report that the Austrians are withdrawing troops from the Serbian front. On the contrary, Austria is sending more men against Serbia to prevent the Servians entering Bosnia."

Havre, via Paris, Sept. 3.—The United States cruiser Tennessee sailed from here today for Falmouth. She had on board about 1,000 Americans.

London, Sept. 3.—King George and Queen Mary today visited a London hospital at White Chapel where soldiers wounded in the battles in France are being treated. There are 300 men in this big hospital to which they were taken so they might be near relatives. The King and Queen gave minute attention to the accommodations provided. They conversed freely with the wounded and expressed pleasure at the care being bestowed on them.

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch received here from Wellington, N. Z., declares that the Governor of New Zealand has received a message stating that the German Governor of Samoa has surrendered and that he has been taken with other German prisoners to the Fiji Islands.

Paris, Sept. 3.—The Temps announces its intention to follow the government to Bordeaux and publish there.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The first cablegram received from Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople in several days reached the State Department today. It made no mention of any declaration of war by Turkey. It was dated September 2nd, and said that the Ambassador had succeeded in sending home all Americans who had made requests for passage.

Paris, Sept. 3.—A Havas news dispatch from Antwerp contains the following official announcement by the Belgian government:

"The situation remains the same in the provinces of Antwerp and Limbourg. The Germans have set fire to several villages in the suburbs of M. Merchten, attached to the Russian embassy, confirms the report of the destruction of Mangel, Cossel and Bechthofen by Russian cavalry, and also that they have broken the lines of the enemy between Hellsberg (East Prussia, 40 miles south of Koenigsberg) and Koenigsberg."

Bordeaux, France, (by way of Paris Sept. 3.)—President Poincaré and the French cabinet arrived here today and were greeted by immense and cheering crowds. They have established headquarters to the government.

Paris, Sept. 3.—M. Beginning tonight no persons may leave or enter Paris between 8 P. M. and 5 A. M. without a military pass. Automobiles may enter freely during the day, but cannot leave without permits. Pedestrians are permitted to pass without permits through certain gates while other gates are closed. Gardeners bringing fresh vegetables to the city are permitted access at half hour intervals during the day.

EIGHT PEOPLE DROWN IN FLOODS AT MANILA. Seven Filipinos and One American—16.3 inches Rainfall in 48 Hours.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Seven Filipinos and one American were drowned in a flood which swept Manila after a rainfall of more than a week, according to a message today from Governor General Harrison. During the 48 hours ending at midnight Tuesday 16.3 inches of rain fell.

The lower section of Manila was flooded to a depth of from three to five feet during high tide yesterday. The Filipinos were lost from a masted canoe and the American, whose name is not given, was drowned.

Governor Harrison's report says no houses were destroyed in Manila and rapid work by the mayor's government and city authorities prevented loss of life. Five thousand women and children were removed in rowboats to higher ground.

In several districts of the city bridges and streets were damaged and the water flooded the furnace room of the street railway power company. From 1 A. M. September 2, no cars were operated until the night of the 3rd.

—The Atlantic Coast Line is advertising a big excursion from Fayetteville to Wilmington on Friday, September 11th, leaving Fayetteville at 7:30 A. M. and returning the same day. Separate coaches will be provided for white and colored and the fare is only $1.25 for the round trip.

N. C. APPROPRIATIONS DEFENDED BY SIMMONS

Against Attacks of Arch Enemy of the South.

Senator Burton, of Ohio, Fights Provisions of River and Harbor Bill—No War Tax on Tobacco, Says Kitchin.

(Special Star Telegram.) Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—Senator Simmons defended the appropriations for North Carolina in the River and Harbor bill today when they were attacked by Senator Burton, of Ohio, the arch enemy of the South. The Ohio senator tried to create the impression that the large appropriations were put into the bill because of the position the senator North Carolina senator occupies on the commerce committee which framed the bill. He charged also that there had been little if any commerce on the Chesapeake and Ohio canal.

Senator Simmons defended both the canal and harbor of refuge propositions and produced figures showing that something like $1,000,000 worth of business was carried through the canal every year.

No War Tax on Tobacco. Representative Claude Kitchin, ranking member of the ways and means committee, stated today that it is practically certain that the House will not put a special war tax on tobacco. Mr. Kitchin has worked earnestly against tobacco tax just now because he thinks, like a good many other people, that there should be no additional burden placed on the weed at this time. Mr. Kitchin thinks, however, that there will be a war tax placed on whiskey.

Held up in Germany. Representative Webb is trying to have the State Department aid the family of Joseph Laas, of Hickory, who are being held up in Germany on account of the war. Mr. Webb received a telegram today asking that he render what assistance he could and he immediately took the matter up with the State Department.

The bill authorizing the sale of a part of the post office at Gastonia has passed the House. It was introduced by Mr. Webb.

HOW NEW YORK TEAM

REGAINED THE LEAD
Brooklyn, September 3.—New York regained the National League lead again today by beating a double header from Brooklyn while Boston was losing in Philadelphia. The scores were 6 to 3 and 7 to 2. Mathewson kept Brooklyn's hits scattered in the first game. Ragan weakened in the sixth inning, and singles by Doyle and Grant and a bad muff by Daubert on Fletcher's sacrifice gave New York two runs.

Four more were added in the fifth inning on doubles by Burns and Robertson, singles by Doyle, Fletcher and Meyers, and a base on balls to Snodgrass. Schmutz pitched the last four innings and checked the New York onslaught. Wheat's single, which was fumbled by Burns, followed by Getz's single, gave Brooklyn its first run. Cuthaw doubled in the sixth and scored on Getz's single. Getz reached second on Fletcher's fumble in the ninth and scored on McCarthy's single.

Tesreau was effective in the second game, for thirteen hits and three runs in eight innings. Steele pitched the ninth inning, in which New York clinched the game. Meyers and Snodgrass walked, and Cuthaw's error on Doyle's grounder filled the bases. Burns cleared the bags with a home run to left. New York . . . 000 240 000—6 10 5

PHILLIES PLAY ROLE OF

LIFE SAVER TO GIANTS

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—Boston was toppled out of first place today when Philadelphia defeated the Braves 7 to 1 and New York defeated Brooklyn twice. Alexander had Boston shut out until the ninth inning when the visitors developed a batting rally. Five hits and an error by Ireland and a pass gave them four runs with the bases filled and two out. Then Maranville went out on a grounder to Ireland and ended the game. Evers was put off the field by Umpire Klein in the second inning for kicking.

BOSTON RED SOX GO

AND DO THE IMPOSSIBLE.

Boston, Sept. 3.—Boston took both games of a double header from Philadelphia today, the first 3 to 1 and the second 6 to 3. Strunk's error on Scott's fly allowed Gardner to score Boston's first run in the opening contest, and clean hitting assisted by sacrifice flies accounted for the other two runs.

Bunched hits gave Boston the lead in the second game. Collins' triple and Lewis' error scored for Philadelphia in the first inning, and a batting rally in the seventh added two more tallies. Boston . . . 001 101 000—3 9 2

SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST.

Old Adage Proves True in Golf Tournament at Manchester.

Manchester, Va., Sept. 3.—Again today players of highest rank were survivors in the match play for the United States Golf Association amateur championship over the links of the Ekwanok Country Club, completing the third round.

Jerome D. Travers, present title holder without close competition, won 6 up over W. P. Seelye, of Brooklawn. Francis Ouimet, former National open champion, also was an easy winner.

He ended his match with Robert A. Gardner, of Hinsdale, on the 11th green of the afternoon round, 9 up. The veteran, Walter J. Travis, another former amateur champion, and W. C. Fownes, of Oakmont, title holder in 1910, survived their difficulties.

Travis and Travers and Fownes and Ouimet will meet in the semi-finals tomorrow.

MARINE IS CHAMPION

RIFLE SHOT OF EAST

Seafirt, N. J., Sept. 3.—By winning the big divisionals match today with a high score of 326 Private C. C. Terry, of the marine corps is the acknowledged champion rifle man of the Eastern division, embracing 13 New England and North Atlantic states.

There were 116 men entered in the event.

Red Dooin's charges received a promotion from seventh to sixth place by virtue of their ability to knock the Braves from their perch.

St. Louis, for once this season the occupant of a berth in second place, was pulled down from third to fourth place when Pittsburgh walloped them 11 to 6, the Pirate Crew swamping off the cellar to the Brooklyn and Reds in exchange for a domicile five floors from the top.

Chicago took the perch vacated by the Browns immediately under New York and Boston, when she administered a row of goose eggs to Buck Herzog's hopefuls while said Red Stockings were pounding them to all corners of the lot for a total of seven circuits. The comparative positions of the clubs for the two days gives a more forceful example of the disaster wrought to certain pennant dreamers by the day's play.

Not von word on the situation except nodding at all.

"They serve God well who serve his creatures"—Mrs. Norton.

When all the people get mad something is liable to happen.

Americans are asked to keep their heads so they won't put their foot
in it.

No news from an escaped convict means that he has succeeded in getting away.

Man harbors civilization till he gets mad and goes to war, or goes to war and gets mad.

Get down to business but don't get down on some other fellow who fails to agree with you.

Poor government means that the people elect men who know nothing about government.

The flying machine in war seems to have been intended to get innocent bystanders "up in the air."

They all neutralize neutrality in case of necessity. There is no policeman to keep any of them off the grass.

When an appointment is held up in the Senate it is a sign that some Senator's favorite has met with disappointment.

Wanted—a man who will fight to free the people and see that the free people have a free ballot and a fair count.

Some facts are so stated that they can be disputed. Evasive answers are construed as indirect acknowledgments.

King Albert of Belgium is said to be a good newspaper man. Recently Albert has failed to scoop his adversaries.

When you expect good news from a friend and he sends none at all
it means that he has no good news to send.

There is no baldheaded row at the "theatre of war," for the reason that no chorus girls are there to lead them
captive.

Wars sooner or later come to an end
and then another struggle with poverty begins. The world can't stand prosperity.

The people may not be fit for self government but crowned heads have time and again demonstrated the fact that they are not as fit as the people.

The seat of Government and the treasury of France will be removed from Paris to Bordeaux. One reason is that France's dough will be safe in Bordeaux.

The innocent bystanders don't seem disposed to stand for bombs dropped from aircraft overhead. The main thing done by aircraft is to shatter people's nerves.

If there should be war there would be no go in jingo. The main thing about a jingo is the "jig." The "o" in jingo stands for a "kiss egg" in baseball parlance.

When a man wants to take you over the coals for having an opinion it is a sign that he thinks he alone is entitled to have an opinion. It's too funny to mention.

A battle in the air is scored for 1914. The first successful experiment to fly with a heavier than air machine was made by the Wright Brothers at Kitty Hawk, N. C.

They all call on God but God isn't in. In the day of their trial and tribulation they make their pleas for divine help. God is no war Lord. God is love. War is hate.

No man can be independent of the Democratic party in North Carolina.
Whatever may be its faults it has done more for him and his state than has any other party.

LEGITIMATE GOVERNMENT HELP FOR COTTON.

There seems to be some misunderstanding of the government's plan to save the cotton industry of the United States from disaster on account of the emergency thrust upon it by the general war in Europe. For instance,
such an able and well-informed newspaper as the valued Philadelphia Record (Dem.) gives this point of view, evidently based upon misapprehension
of what the Southern growers want the government to do for them and the greatest export commodity of the nation:

"Cotton promises to be the largest or
next to the largest crop we ever raised.
The condition improved during the last month to a degree that means a good deal more than a million bales. With a large crop and a light European demand, the cotton growers would, of course, be very glad to have the United States Government pay them 13 cents a pound for the whole quantity. It is high time for Congress to consider how far it can go into the direction of legislation in the interest of individuals or classes or localities without getting the more experienced Republican leadership for this sort of legislation."

The Record is mistaken in the assumption that the cotton growers want the government to purchase their cotton at 12 cents per pound, or even at any price. The Record, however, emphasizes a clean Democratic principle in its view, but it is mistaken as to the South's position on the problem of securing a measure of protection from the government. It is true that some such proposition as valorization
was advocated by a few in the South,
but the overwhelming sentiment in the South was strongly opposed to government purchase or valorization.

The South never expected the Treasury Department to do any more than it has done for every other interest in times of emergency—that is, to furnish sufficient money to meet an extraordinary condition. That has been done during panic periods in New York. The government on different occasions has gone to the rescue of the stock and bond market and saved the day for the United States—not for New York.

So far as cotton is concerned, the government is not expected to buy cotton or even build warehouses, or do anything of a paternalistic nature,
but the Treasury Department has done or will do all the South can hope for it to do—stand back of a cotton panic with money which can only be secured in a legitimate banking way.

Southern Democrats are bound to take the Record's fundamental Democratic view that there can be no "special" cotton interest any more than a special manufacturing interest, pampered industrial or agricultural interests, or class legislation of any description whatsoever.

As a matter of fact, the aid which the government proposes to extend to the nation's cotton production and export cotton interest is but a banking function, possibly rather liberal but justified under the circumstance that the government really is protecting the nation's balance of trade.

NEUTRALITY AND ITS VIOLATORS.

It struck the world as a monstrous idea that Germany should violate the neutrality of Belgium and even make war on that small kingdom because it resisted German invasion. Perfunctory for the passage of the Kaiser's hosts was asked, but it was denied. The world knows the rest—the terrible sieges at Liege and Namur and other bloody battles as the result of a violation of the neutrality of a country with a small but gallant army. This has nothing to do with Germany's justification for that act. It is only justification to say that Great Britain made war on her for it.

Now comes one of Great Britain's allies with a violation of the neutrality of a peaceful and weak nation. All these military tyrants act alike. Japan has violated helpless China's neutrality
in order to get at the German defenders at Kiaochow. The Chinese protested, but did not have the force to resist invasion of their territory. Had they resisted, the Japanese certainly would have repeated what resistance brought on in Belgium. Who is there to make war on the Japanese for violating China's neutrality?

Japan did something like it when she invaded Korea to get at the Russians in Manchuria. She even liked Korea so well that she annexed the Hermut Kingdom and put her helpless people under a military government.
There was no nation to fight Korea's battles, and so she is as much Jap territory as Nippon is herself. We might expect more of European people but when they ignore the rights of weak nations we need not expect any better of men who recently signed their names in blood to petitions demanding a chance to slaughter the small German garrison cooped up in the death trap in that country's small leased port in China.

What do any of these war bullies care for neutrality? With three combined navies, what do they care for the neutrality of ships sailing under the flag of so great a nation as the United States? What a travesty on so-called "civilized warfare" is the great European war or any other war!

Yet there are loud declaimers against the violation of neutrality, and as an instance let us quote from the Philadelphia Record part of a communication from Mr. S. B. Patterson, of Long-port, N. J. With execrations for Germany's violation of Belgium's neutrality, Mr. Patterson draws this parallel:

"First, suppose that Germany is supreme on the seas and able to transport troops and munitions of war
across the Atlantic. Let us now imagine a demand being made on our Government with reasons given somewhat as follows: 'The Imperial Government intends to attack and will invade Canada as part of the British Empire. But the seaboard of Canada is strongly de-tended by forts, whereas the long boundary line between Canada and the United States has no defenses.

Therefore, to facilitate his military operations, his Majesty demands immediate permission to land his troops on the New England coast and cross the same to the Canadian border. In case of a refusal his troops will cross nevertheless. Let us further imagine at the time of this demand that the German government was a party to a solemn treaty establishing and guaranteeing our neutrality. To complete the parallel we must imagine the desecration of the country, and the slaughter of thousands of our people for defending their families and friends."

Indeed, just what Mr. Patterson so clearly emphasizes in his parallel would be done by any or all of those powers of aggrandizement and war
when they know their war schemes could not be resisted. They even go into the middle of continents and shoot up and take over free people upon whom they desire to impose their government, even if a relentless war has to be waged to accomplish their ends.
We even have people in the United States who pretend to justify such acts, but there are millions who will condemn it on the part of any or all the nations of Europe or America, regardless of what nation it is, whether it is at war on either side or not.

PEANUT BAGS ADVANCE IN PRICE.

The peanut growers of North Carolina and Virginia are greatly pertur-bated over war prices for peanut bags.
The manufacturers of bags have notified the dealers and peanut factories
that they cannot fill any more orders
at the prices which controlled under former contracts. There has been an increase of 65 per cent in the price of bags, the price having suddenly increased from $104 to $175 per thousand sacks. That means an increase of $69 per thousand, since the last contracts were filled. That greatly increased price will cut down the profits of the growers by thousands of dollars.

When peanuts are gathered, picked and graded on the farms they have to be sacked for market. The purchasers of the crop are merchants and peanut factories where the nuts are cleaned and polished by machinery, commercially graded and resacked for shipment at wholesale or for export.
Norfolk is the world's largest market for peanuts and Wilmington comes next. In this city there are five pen-nut factories which have a large trade
all over America and even in Europe and South America. It is a tremendous industry, so a $69 increase in the price of bags means the loss of thousands of dollars to the growers all around Wilmington.

North Carolina's peanut production amounts to probably 600,000 bushels a year and it requires 125,000 four and a half bushel bags to sack the crop for market. An advance of nearly 70 cents a bag that the growers will have to bear an altogether unexpected burden.

The Carolina crop is raised in the tidal section of the State, and peanuts constitute the money crop almost exclusively in some counties, but in most of them the farmers have the advantage of diversifying their production
with four such premier sellers as cotton, tobacco, peanuts and truck. Even if this section does grow the greatest variety of money crops known to American agriculture, the farmers don't like any sudden burden as a sharp
advance in such an absolute necessity
as sacks.

The Eastern North Carolina growers are up in arms about it. They believe the manufacturers are taking advantage of the war to squeeze the growers.
They do not believe the increased price
of bags is legitimate. Manufacturers, it is contended, laid in their bag stock long before the war, and that the material was bought at old prices.
Hence, it is asserted that manufacturers are simply taking advantage of war conditions to arbitrarily put up prices.

The North Carolina growers have protested to Representative Small and he has put the Department of Justice on the trial of the bag makers. The cause of the advance in prices will be investigated by the Department. Meanwhile the market for peanuts is dull, quotations on the Wilmington market yesterday were 90 cents to $1.00 per bushel. About the same price prevailed last year, although as much as $1.35 for some grades was paid
last season.

THE NEW FRENCH CAPITAL.

The Star's telegraphic dispatches yesterday announced as a fact that the French government had decided to move to Bordeaux. That is a port in Southwest France 360 miles from Paris, which is in the far north.

Whatever defense the French and British forces are putting up to save Paris, the government evidently does not propose to take any chances on captivity. In fact, the public generally will be impressed that the government sees the inevitable and is taking to cover.

That is not all, however. It indicates that the French do not propose to give up France, even if the Germans do capture Paris. They seem disposed to even fight on beyond Paris and on towards Bordeaux, if necessary. It looks as if they proposed to make it a Kilkenney fight, a line of resistance which means desperate warfare till
there is no French army to fight.

Entangling alliances have more to do with the general war in Europe than anything else. Every alliance in Europe is based on either enmity or design. Why is the whilom Triple Alliance? Wherefore the Triple Entente? Well, where there is so much triple there is bound to be a trip for one side or the other.

Colonel Roosevelt is going to New Orleans next week to make a speech on the tariff, for the reason that cane growers in Louisiana are mad because cane sugar was hit by the Democratic tariff. Owing to the war prices of sugar, a speech on that subject would not appeal to consumers in most of the States.

Buying ships which may involve us
in war in a purpose to protect them
would be a poor investment in times so critical as the present. We must have ships but we want only those with no war possibilities included in the purchase. We are not afraid. We are prudent.

The report comes from New York
that Boss Barnes proposes to "retire."
He denies that he has been outflanked but insists that he has a right to retire and show his contempt for those who have been seeking his retirement.

The European war is used as an excuse for putting up the price of butter.
We are now paying as much for butter as we did in the alleged "full dinner pail" days of the lamented Mark Hanna.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is reported that the governor of North Carolina is getting very ap-pry these days. In addition to being an expert with a pick and shovel on road work, the governor is an autoist and a mountain climber. The latest report is that he is also an expert tangost and an adept in the fancy steps which are now going the rounds—Raleigh Times.

Plechon wants Japanese soldiers to come and fight in France. Why should not Frenchmen save France, particularly when the British are helping and the Belgians held back the Germans three weeks? The Frenchman's argument is that the Frenchman should not beg for help from the other side of the world. If France had gone promptly to help the Belgians who were fighting for the French, instead of making raids into Alsace-Lorraine for political effect and taking the mourning off the monument to Strasburg, the Germans would not be so near Paris. But the Frenchman is unconquerably spectacular.—Philadelphia Record.

Sir John French's report that the English casualties were between 5000
and 6000 in four days of savage fighting is inconsistent with the stories
current about the desperate character of the struggle with the Germans. Such losses would have been esteemed trifling
in the Balkan war and in our own civil war and would not have purified
the steady retreat of the English forces. It seems more likely that the commanding general had maintained
the losses, which will prove to be much more serious when the official figures appear. If England and France are fighting for their lives they must be prepared to make much greater sacrifices of men than has yet been made known.—Philadelphia Record.

Extravagance becomes the course of every government. Our Federal rule costs every inhabitant nearly $11 a year, which equals the price paid for Russian autocracy. Paternal and debi-lized Great Britain charges every dweller under its flag $21 a year and republican France taxes its people $23,
or more than double the sum paid
by Americans. The Hapsburgs in Austria are not modest either, for their government is $21 per capita. The German states which make up the empire yield over $22 from every inhabitant. Since in our country we are taxed nearly $4 per capita for military and pension purposes, what must be the tax in the warring lands of Europe for the maintenance of the monstrous engines organized and maintained to destroy each other? It is small wonder that a third of all the voter in Germany are Socialists, whose chief political plank is antimilitarism, while in France and Austria half the unrest is due to the flooding of workers to maintain a hive of drones.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Democratic party in Wayne county, through its representatives
in last Saturday's largely attended, harmonious and enthusiastic Convention, has spoken, and the ticket placed in the field should receive the endorsement and cordial support of every Democrat in the county. Although there have been little wars and rumors of wars in the ranks of the party in the county, it is now all over, and all past differences should be buried.
Good men have been nominated and good men have been defeated. While some of the unsuccessful candidates are disappointed, they are all loyal Democrats who will rally to the support of those more fortunate. Democracy should present a united front in the county this year, regardless of the weakness and helplessness of the common enemy—the Republicans and the Bull Mooseers, who were divided against themselves two years ago, and do not appear to be any more formidable this year. Let all who love Democracy, who are proud of the party's record and glorious achievements in State, Nation and County, forget past differences and stand together!—Mount Olive Tribune.

Coming direct from Rotterdam and carrying three American business men who were traveling abroad at the outbreak of European hostilities, the Dutch steamer Gorredijk, 4,110 tons, Capt. Van Dulken, for Wilmington and New Orleans, arrived in port yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and is discharging a part cargo of bulk kainit at the A. C. L. warehouses. She will later proceed to New Orleans with a general cargo.

The Gorredijk is a trade steamer of the Holland American Line, plying on a regular run between Rotterdam and New Orleans and South American ports. She is the largest steamer that has ever come up the Cape Fear river, the largest tonnage on record here—before being between 3,800 and 3,900 tons. She cleared from Rotterdam on August 18th, and made the trip across in 16 days and 17 nights, which is considered a remarkably quick voyage. Her cargo for Wilmington consists of 2,926 tons of bulk kainit, while the balance is 214 tons general cargo for New Orleans. The Gorredijk has no wireless equipment.

The passengers who came in on the Gorredijk are Mr. Chas. S. Thorne, vice president of the Pocahontas Fuel Company, of New York; Mr. Frederick Haberman, of New York and Miami, Fla.; and Mr. J. Zobel, of Rochester, N. Y. They spent yesterday at the Orton, and Messrs. Thorne and Haberman left on the 5:45 train for New York City. Mr. Haberman was met here by his son, Mr. Sylvester Haberman, who came from New York to meet his father, and who returned with him.

The gentlemen were seen at the Orton yesterday, and told a Star representative of their experiences following the outbreak of hostilities. Mr. Thorne was in Carlsbad, Austria, where Austria declared war on Serbia, and he left there to get into neutral territory, crossing into Germany. While in Germany that nation declared war on Russia.

Mr. Haberman was in Kissingen, Bavaria, when war was declared. He joined Mr. Thorne and they made their way out of Germany together, going to Frankfurt-on-Main, thence to Mainz and down the Rhine by way of a small freight steamer to Rotterdam, where they took passage on the Gorredijk.

Messrs. Thorne and Haberman say they did not see any real suffering on the part of Americans abroad from actual want, but that all were seriously embarrassed by the fact that the railway and public service utilities were temporarily suspended for the use of the public to permit the quick movement of troops, also by the fact that no foreign citizens in any of the European countries involved could move about without the proper permits, which required about ten days to obtain, and still further by the suspension of payments on letters of credit or express notes, which deprived all of ready money.

Even auto travel, Mr. Thorne said, was suspended by reason of the seizure of the cars for government purposes and the prohibition of the sale of gasoline.

It required about four for the two to make the trip from Frankfurt to Rotterdam, whereas, under the usual conditions, the journey requires only nine or ten hours.

The credit of most Americans who are still in Europe, Mr. Thorne says, is good so long as they remain in points where they are known, and while most of them have no ready money, they are not suffering for the necessities of life, as the hotels are carrying them, knowing that they will receive their money sooner or later. However, they have to content themselves with a very limited service, as most of the hotel waiters, porters, coffee and other servants have gone to the front to fight.

While they were coming down the Rhine, just as they reached the German frontier, Messrs. Thorne and Haberman witnessed the capture by German officers who boarded the steamer to inspect it, of a young Belgian citizen, who was with them, and who was carrying them, knowing that they will receive their money sooner or later. However, they have to content themselves with a very limited service, as most of the hotel waiters, porters, coffee and other servants have gone to the front to fight.

Mr. Thorne was asked about the voyage across. "Our experience," he replied, "simply illustrates the domination of the seas by the English. We were held up or questioned three times by British vessels. Just after we left Rotterdam, and while in the English channel, just off Dover, we were halted by a fleet of English torpedo boat destroyers, one of which stopped us and after inquiring the name of our vessel, where we were from and where bound to, instructed our captain to go to the Downs, the mouth of the Thames river, for inspection."

"It took us several hours to change our course and go to the Downs, where we were boarded by an officer of the English navy, who examined the captain's papers, after which we were allowed to proceed."

"While we were still in the English channel, off Plymouth, we were halted and boarded by a lieutenant commander from the British cruiser Diana, and this time a thorough examination was made of the cargo, passengers and entire crew, as well as the officers. We were again allowed to proceed. On the following day, just off the coast of Ireland, we were halted by an English cruiser, but on giving our name and destination, were told to proceed, our examination by the Diana having evidently been reported by wireless to the other cruiser."

"Captain Van Dulken, a most courteous young Hollander, did everything in his power to make our trip com-

OPENING OF COTTON SEASON

Buyers for Messrs. Sprunt & Son in the Field—Farmers Busy With Gathering—Tobacco Outlook.

Although September 1st formally opens the cotton season in the south, as yet there has been little tangible evidence of that fact in Wilmington, and although the small army of cotton buyers employed each season by the firm of Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son have taken their posts, and Mr. W. B. Cooper, who enters the field for the first time this season, has representatives on many of the Carolina and Georgia markets, it is understood that these outposts of the cotton industry in Wilmington, will, for the present at least, pursue a policy of "watchful waiting" and do what they can in inducing the farmers to protect themselves under the warehouse plan suggested in the admirable scheme of the government for taking care of the growers throughout the South.

Messrs. Sprunt & Son, it is understood, have made it plain to their buyers that they do not care to buy the distressed cotton if other means of financing it to the better interest of the grower can be had, but if it is for sale, to buy it on as liberal a basis as possible for the seller. The firm emphatically endorses the Wilmington plan for storing and financing the crop and would much prefer that what is offered just now be handled in that way, but if it cannot be done, then the firm will pay just as high for the staple as they can possibly do so.

Several hundred bales have already been bought, but it has been the policy of the firm to discourage as far as possible any general marketing of the crop under present conditions. The Champion Company will hardly begin operations on anything like full time for some time yet and the cotton purchased will likely be handled by domestic mills.

A gentleman who has just returned from a trip through several of the leading cotton and tobacco counties in the section of the State and South Carolina says that cotton is opening rapidly and is being gathered remarkably fast, while tobacco is being placed in the barns and is being handled into the markets quite rapidly with very satisfactory prices. The cotton crop promises to be unusually good and with the weather that has prevailed, much of it has been picked and not a little of it ginned. The farmers are fully conversant with the plans of the government for taking care of them in this emergency, and the action of the administration leaders, the bankers and others, has given them a fresh inspiration to help him to help himself.

Mr. Thorne said they are doing so promptly and take a most common sense view of the whole situation. The merchants in the towns have also responded nobly to the assistance of those whom they have furnished for the making of the crop and there is no doubt but that with the co-operation of all the present crop will turn out quite as well as any crop in the past dozen years. The gentleman referred to also said that if Woodrow Wilson and Secretary McAdoo want to remain in office for life and the farmers of the State can allow them to do so, they need have no fear.

At Lumberton, at Laurinburg, at McDowell's Rowland, St. Paul's and a dozen other places merchants and farmers are busy with their arrangements for warehousing most of the crop and the banks have shown a commendable disposition to assist in every way possible to finance the situation. At Lumberton one warehouse was financed at a single meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the town and a committee was appointed to solicit funds for the same. At McDowell's Rowland, the stocks were hauled to the saw mill and the lumber cut before a dollar for the warehouse was raised. That sort of enterprise, it is pointed out, is the spirit which will tide the cotton grower safely over the present emergency.

The tobacco people are very much encouraged since the return of the buyers to their markets and reports from everywhere are that while the prices are not high, they are in the main satisfactory and there is no lack of money to handle the crop. In fact all the way from 12 to 15 cents per pound are the average.

IN PHILADELPHIA INSPECTION.

Mr. T. L. Gore of this City, Receives Appointment in Health Service.

Many Wilmington friends of Mr. T. L. Gore, of this city, will read with interest the following from the Philadelphia Public Ledger:

"To assist in the campaign which the Department of Public Health and Charities has inaugurated against rats with a view to preventing the invasion of the bubonic plague into this port, T. L. Gore, a fourth-year medical student at the University of Pennsylvania and who for some time has been employed by the United States government at Wilmington, N. C., where a crusade against rats is being waged, was yesterday appointed a special inspector by Director of Health and Charities Harts. He is the sixth medical student to be so employed."

"Mr. Gore will immediately take up the duties of his new position. Due to his wide experience in fighting the plague, he will probably be deputized to perform special work. Dr. Harts stated yesterday. It was officially announced that the rat receiving station to be operated on Race street pier would open tomorrow."

Adopt Nine Hour Day.
The Carpenters and Joiners' Local No. 10 of this city has adopted the nine-hour working day, and has asked City Council to specify in its contract for the new fire station to be erected at Fifth and Castle that the carpenters are to work only nine hours a day.

fortable, and is a most capable and efficient officer. Whenever we were held up by the English vessels, he always responded to the instructions of the English officers with a cheerful 'Aye, aye, Sir.' "We are glad to get back home," said Mr. Thorne, in conclusion, "and I can only express the hope that the many Americans in Europe will reach home as safely and as comfortably as we did."

CONFERENCE COMES TO END
Charges Against Mr. Price Have Been Made

State Board of Elections Will Conduct Investigation
Meeting Will Be Held at Orton Hotel Tomorrow Evening—Secretary of State Board Was Here Yesterday.

For the purpose of investigating charges made against Mr. Jos. A. Price, who was appointed a member of the County Board of Elections several weeks ago and later advised that his appointment has been cancelled, which cancellation he has declined to recognize, a meeting of the State Board of Elections will be held at the Orton Hotel here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Jos. B. Underwood, of Fayetteville, secretary of the State Board of Elections, spent yesterday in the city, conferring with Chairman Jos. W. Little, of the county Democratic Executive Committee, and with Mr. Price and others interested in the matter. He returned to Fayetteville last evening, but announced before he left that a meeting of the State Board would be held here Saturday night for the purpose of going into the matter fully.

The hearing, it is stated, will in all probability not be public, but Mr. Price was told that he would be given an opportunity to appear before the Board and offer a rebuttal to all charges that have been made. No public announcement has been made so far as to what the charges are, but it is thought that they are for the most part relative to Mr. Price's political affiliations. In his fight against the cancellation of his appointment as a member of the county board of elections Mr. Price has the backing of the Independent Club, of which organization he is the secretary and treasurer, while it is generally thought that his opponents are Democrats who are opposed to the policies of the Independent Club. The matter, as it now stands, promises to be of unusual interest, and its outcome will be awaited with interest.

Mr. Price, seen yesterday, had nothing to say in regard to the matter other than that he had no intention of giving up his certificate of appointment, and that he would contest all efforts to disbar him from membership with the club.

Mr. Underwood also stated that Mr. Price had expressed his determination to stand pat, and that this would necessitate the State Board of Elections taking the matter up. He said that he would find the facts in the case impartially and state them to the State committee. Any charges made against Mr. Price, he said, if charges were made, would not be made public, either before or after the State committee had taken action upon them.

It will be remembered that Mr. Price and Mr. H. S. McGirt were named as members of the county election board some weeks ago. Mr. McGirt, however, declined to serve. Later Mr. Price received notice that his appointment had been made by mistake, that it had been cancelled and another named in his stead. He was asked to return the certificate of appointment.

At the same time Messrs. Eben Piner and C. W. Woodward were advised that they had been appointed members of the Board of Elections, and were asked to return their certificates. Mr. Piner, of the county Democratic Executive Committee, certificates of appointment, similar to those received by Messrs. Price and McGirt.

Mr. Price, after consulting with attorneys, announced that he considered his appointment legal and that in view of that fact he would decline to return his certificate, and would contest any effort made to keep him out of the membership of the Board of Elections.

Joyful Anticipation of Motherhood

There is apt to be a latent apprehension of distress to mar the complete joy of expectation. But this is quite overcome by the advice of so many women to use "Mother's Friend." This is an external application designed to soothe the pressure reacting on the nerves, that the natural strain upon the cords and ligaments is not accompanied by those severe pains said to cause nausea, morning sickness and many local distresses. This "Mother's Friend" is known to a multitude of mothers.

Many people believe that those remedies which have stood the test of time, that have been put to every trial and the varying conditions of age, weight, general health, etc., may be safely relied upon. And judging by the fact that "Mother's Friend" has been in continuous use since our grandmother's earlier years and is known throughout the United States it may be easily inferred that it is something that women talk about and gladly recommend to prospective mothers.

"Mother's Friend" is prepared only in our own laboratory and is sold by druggists everywhere. Ask for a bottle to-day and write for a special book for expectant mothers. Address: Bradford Regulator Co., 497 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

They rendered their parts well which included recitations, speeches, etc. After the play, refreshments were served. Before departing for their homes the little folks expressed themselves as having had a good time.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brown McKoy have arrived in the city after spending several weeks at Wrightsville and Wilmington and are guests at the Clayton Hotel. Mrs. McKoy prior to her marriage to Mr. McKoy August 11th was Miss Elise McCurdy Erwin, daughter of Mrs. George Phifer Erwin, of Morganton. She is one of the State's most beautiful and popular young women. Mr. and Mrs. McKoy will receive a cordial welcome into Charlotte society. Mrs. McKoy is well known and popular here having often visited her sister, Mrs. Fred M. Laxton, at her home at Club Acres. Mr. McKoy is in charge of the Charlotte offices of Alex. Sprunt & Sons, of Wilmington."

Yesterday's Southport News: "Mrs. J. A. Drew is spending a few days in Wilmington, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. Davis Robbins. Mrs. Robbins, of Wilmington, who has passed their usual summer here, at Miss Kate Starr's, have returned home. Dr. W. C. Galloway and family will leave Friday for Wilmington after spending the summer at their summer home. Mrs. Galloway always welcome visitors in our midst, and we regret their departure. Miss Lucille McKeltham, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Moore, of Wilmington, returned home Sunday, accompanied by Miss Florence Galloway. Master James Furlow has returned from Wilmington after spending several days very pleasantly with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis Robbins."

ANNUAL CLUB FROLIC AT THE BEACH THIS EVENING. The annual frolic of the Carolina Yacht Club will take place at the club house on Wrightsville Beach tonight. The annual regatta which was during the past racing season by Messrs. Douglas and Louis MacMillan in Yacht No. 64. The second prize, the club pitcher, went to Capt. W. M. Peck. The championship flag the past season was won by the Dixie, sailed by Capt. Donald Parsley. All members of the club are expected to attend the exercises of the evening, which promise to be very pleasing.

Wrightsville Beach

Lumberton Tribune: "Mrs. J. A. Thompson and Mrs. W. P. Barclay, spending a few days at Wrightsville Beach."

Yesterday's Southport News: "Miss Marion Alexander, an accomplished young lady of many attainments returned to Louisville, Ky., after spending a fortnight as the guest of Col. and Mrs. H. K. White. Misses May Phelps and Marylynn Fisher accompanied Miss Alexander as far as Wilmington and joined a merry party at Wrightsville."

As the beach season nears the end, the motion picture offerings at Lumina seem to grow in popularity, and they have become one of the real big attractions at the South's most famous pavilion. Tonight's bill is headed by a mammoth Lubin drama, "In the Dredger's Claw," one of the most thrilling releases of the season. Then there is that big hit in a Vitaphone comedy-drama, "His Little Page," a picture that will interest every visitor at Lumina, and the bill winds up with a rousing Pathe comedy number, "Won by a Nose."

The curtain will be rung down on the 1914 season at Lumina immediately following the dance Monday evening, Labor Day being the last day when Richardson's orchestra will be here. The exhibition dancing by Miss Chandler and Mr. West and the open air moving pictures will also be continued through Labor Day. There are, therefore, only a few more evenings of dancing at the popular pavilion, and the young people of the city will doubtless make the most of these. The last Sunday concert of the season will be given day after tomorrow.

LOCAL DOTS.

THEATRICAL

One round of pleasure right after another, one big surprise following right at the heels of the last, in fact, one continuous performance of big things for the delectation of their many patrons, marks the every day routine at the popular Bijou these days. Wednesday "The Trey O' Hearts" pleased crowded houses; yesterday full houses witnessed The Perils of Pauline, and today comes on another big bill, fully as interesting, and if anything, bigger than yesterday, as it consists of five full reels of pictures. "Shorty Gets in Trouble," is the name of one of today's headlines, a mammoth Broncho production, a serio-comedy of the Western mountain trails in two full reels. This play comes from the hands of those great producers, William H. Clifford and Thomas H. Ince, and featured in the picture are "Shorty" Hamilton, Louise Morrison and Jack Nelson.

Another picture, second to none, is a rousing Rex drama, "A Bowl of Roses," featuring those eminent stars, Robert Leonard and Ella Hall. It is a beautiful story of sentiment and love, romance and adventure.

Then there is that big Nestor dramatic hit, "The Creeping Flame," one of the most thrilling of recent dramatic releases.

The fourth picture on today, the fifth reel, is another one of those big Sterling juvenile comedies that have become so popular. It is "Lost in the Studio." Five reels, this makes it, and all for the still small price of five cents.

At The Victoria Monday. Judging by the enthusiastic comment of theatre-goers the handsome Victoria Theatre, Wilmington's big Keith Vaudeville house, is going to score tremendous success when it opens next Monday, Labor Day, and which event will also mark the official opening of Wilmington's theatrical season.

The Victoria has for its first three days of next week, are already announced and they are certainly colossal. One in particular should be emphasized. It is the act presented by Little Lord Roberts, the noted Lilliputian comedian who but for the war would have today been filling an European theatre. He is a tiny fellow, but a great comedian. He will keep the audience convulsed with laughter, while his dancing and singing are big features.

Among the other way-up acts on the opening bill will be Twisto, one of the greatest novelty artists in the "biz," while the renowned Morin Sisters, maidens who sing, dance and jest in most charming manner, are also featured.

The Victoria makes its bow for the season at matinee Monday afternoon, followed by two performances at night. "Brewster's Millions" Coming. Much to the regret of the Grand management, it missed fire on its phenomenal offering of "Brewster's Millions," announced for yesterday. The film was shipped, through error, to another point, and therefore could not reach Wilmington in time, although the Grand management got busy with the wires and tried to land it. Failing to do this, such being a physical impossibility, it did the next best thing, and that was, closed a positive date for the film for next week, Thursday, September 10. In the meantime, it did not allow its patrons to suffer, but switched in a corking good bill, one of big size and strength, and held the price to the same old 5 cents.

There will be today two special two-reel releases on today. The leader will be Selig's wonderful two-part story, "His Little Page," with a thrill a second. Its fascinating, gripping story of the reformed life of an old jail-bird.

The other two-reel is Kalem's big feature, "The Dredger's Claw," a picture that will interest every visitor at Lumina, and the bill winds up with a rousing Pathe comedy number, "Won by a Nose."

Mr. Henry Mayer, a nephew of the late Mr. Martin Newman, who died suddenly here about the first of August, has written friends here of his arrival in New York from Europe and stating that he expected to be here Saturday morning to administer upon the estate of Mr. Newman, which is said to be worth more than $250,000. The body of Mr. Newman has been sent to the family cemetery in Brooklyn and interred there.

Armour's QUALITY PRODUCTS

You can go into a store that has the Armour "Quality" Products Oval on its door with perfect confidence. Dealers who display it will sell you Armour's Quality Products.

Armour Quality does not depend upon one product alone—nor is it for one section or one community. The same quality is in every product that bears the Armour name. It is a world-wide quality. Irrespective of where you buy an Armour product, it is always the same—perfect. Look for the Armour Quality Products Oval.

Armour's "Simon Pure"

To the housewife who knows, baking suggests Armour's "Simon Pure" Leaf Lard. So much of the success of your pastry depends upon your shortening that you can't afford to take chances. Armour's "Simon Pure" Leaf Lard is the same sort of Lard that mother used in her famous pies. It is made in the same way—open kettle rendered—it is made from the same sort of fat, the pure leaf. Each pail bears the stamp of purity—"U. S. Inspected and Passed."

"Star" Ham a la King

Bolt two pounds of Armour's "Star" Ham until tender; then make a cream sauce and add one can of chopped pimientos, one chopped green pepper. Put in cream sauce and just before serving add one glass of sherry wine and serve on toast.

Armour's Select Eggs

When you buy eggs, you want good eggs, eggs you don't have to take back.

Ask for Armour's "Fancy Select" Eggs in cartons—guaranteed to give satisfaction. The Armour name on eggs means the same as it does on any other Armour product. We are too proud, too careful of our name, to put it on anything but that which is the utmost in goodness and wholesomeness.

The Armour name on eggs is an assurance of eggs that are fresh and large. It is worth while to know a name that will never disappoint you.

Armour's "Star" Ham

When you buy hams you want them the same every time. You want them to be good and to be tender every time. "Star" taste never varies. Armour care and Armour thoroughness of detail have been for years guarding the "Star" quality, so that you can anticipate just how your ham is going to taste if it's an Armour's "Star." Buy a whole "Star" Ham at a time—it is more economical and more convenient. Remember, every "Star" Ham is "U. S. Inspected and Passed."

Armour's Ham Balls

1 cup of cold boiled Armour's "Star" Ham.
1 cup of roasted peanuts.
1 cup of Armour's Cheese.
Grind each separately. Then mix the ham and cheese with Mayonnaise dressing, stir in the peanuts and fry in hot "Simon Pure" Leaf Lard. This mixture may also be used for sandwich filling.

Armour's "Star" Dry Sausage

There is positively no waste to Armour's "Star" Dry Summer Sausage. It is all meat, deliciously flavored meat, that you can eat right down to the last bite.

It is economical, and, added to that, it tastes so good, and it is so good. It is convenient. No cooking is required—just slice, serve and eat.

It is pure. Every ounce of meat that goes into Armour's "Star" Dry Summer Sausage is "U. S. Inspected and Passed."

UNANIMOUSLY ADOPT PLAN

Meeting of New York Cotton Exchange
Endorse Plan Arranged by Special Committee.

New York, September 3.—The meeting of New York cotton exchange members, held today to receive the report of the International Conference, unanimously approved the plan suggested for the settlement of the straddle interests, and continued the committee for the purpose of working out the details of the liquidation. Aside from clearing up the international tangle, no material change was reported in the situation. Southern weather advices were considered generally favorable from the new crop standpoint.

Liverpool Agree.
Liverpool, September 3.—It has been decided to admit to the ballot for American cotton all orders for liquidation of open contracts, including straddle and American interest.

TOBACCO AT FAYETTEVILLE.

Sixty Thousand Pounds Sold There Yesterday at Good Prices.

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 3.—Carrying a front page story of the opening here today of the Planters' Tobacco Warehouse, the Observer this afternoon says that 60,000 pounds were sold at an average price of 13 cents per pound. Some of the weed brought as high as 45 cents per pound. Fully 1,000 people are said to have visited the warehouse during the day and the scene caused a thrill in the heart of every loyal citizen, as from these sales results are expected that will be a tremendous benefit to Fayetteville. Every pound of tobacco on the floor was sold and not a ticket was turned, everybody being satisfied at the price and the treatment received from the warehouse proprietors. The tobacco sold was of good quality and well cured. Nearly all of it was grown in Cumberland county. The sale put out $7,500 in circulation and in spite of the uncertainty of cotton and the European war, it looks like good times.

PEACE IS THE ONLY REDEMPTION FOR COTTON.

Texas Congressman Tells House Why Commerce Not Needed, But Buyers.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Restoration of peace in Europe is the only real remedy for the situation confronting the cotton industry, Representative Clayton, of Texas, today told the House. "The trouble is not a lack of transportation," he said. "Traffic is now having out of Galveston, New Orleans and Atlantic ports in a way that bids air to force a return to normal shipping conditions very soon. The trouble is a lack of buyers. European mills cannot buy cotton until they have been rebuilt and money secured to manufacture it. These can be secured only through the re-establishment of peace."

RICE NOT JUSTIFIED.

Druggists Took Advantage of War to Boost Prices, Is Verdict.
New York, September 3.—Druggists were not justified because of the European war in increasing the price of drugs until the stocks they had on hand at the beginning of hostilities were exhausted, according to D. W. McLeary, secretary of a drug company who testified today in District Attorney Whitman's John Doe inquiry into high food prices.
Albert C. Lough, vice-president of the Wholesale Druggists of New York, said importation of drugs from countries at war virtually had ceased and that other source of supply must be found. Prices had been advanced, he declared, because the supply on hand was growing smaller and because it soon will be impossible to buy various articles at any price.
Otto F. Amend, a wholesaler, declared the embargo placed by Germany on medicines would prevent importations from that country until the end of the war.

MT. OLIVE MARKET OPENS.

Forty Thousand Pounds Tobacco Sold at Average of 10 Cents.
(Special Star Correspondence.)
Mt. Olive, N. C., Sept. 3.—The tobacco market here opened Wednesday with a sale of about 40,000 pounds of tobacco, which sold at prices ranging from 1-12 to 25 cents per pound, the average being about 10 cents. Considering the quality of tobacco offered for sale, it was the general opinion that it brought its full value, especially in view of the unsettled financial situation just now. Practically all of the American companies were represented.

As a result of the business situation just now, due mostly to the state of affairs in Europe, the managers of the Enterprise Lumber Company, whose large plant is located in the southern end of the city, have found it necessary to make a 15 per cent reduction in the wages of all their employees. It was reduced wages or cease operations entirely, and it was quite plain, of course, that the course they did pursue will be much better for their large force of employees than if they should undertake to pay the same wages and run the risk of having to cease operations entirely.

WYLETOWN HAS VERY LOW DEATH RATE.

Only Six Persons Died in Greensboro in August, 1914.
(Special Star Correspondence.)
Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 3.—Greensboro had a remarkably low death rate for August. There were six deaths in the city; two of these were visitors, one was over 85 years of age, an old man. This shows a death rate of 5.5 per 1,000 for whites and 25 per 1,000 for negroes annually. Dr. Battle, who is making a close study of the city's death rate, believes this cannot be equalled in the United States.

How to Gain Healthy Flesh

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. Advice Use of Samose.
While thinness may not be a disease, yet it is in reality a condition that needs attention. Under the nourishing power of Samose healthy, natural flesh will soon be attached. This remarkable flesh-forming food strengthens the system generally and builds up the fleshy tissues so that good, natural plumpness results. An ounce of flesh is better than a pound of theory. J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. believe that the best possible demonstration of the flesh-forming powers of Samose is to have it tried by its customers and to induce them to use it they offer to pay for the Samose in case it does not give satisfaction. No stronger proof than this can be given of their faith in it, they having seen hundreds who were weak, thin and nervous, become plump, robust and strong, solely through the use of Samose.

NEWS OF A DAY FROM THE STATE'S CAPITAL

Model Farms and Homes in State Museum

Talk of New County of Jarvis Revived—State Departments Moving Into New Quarters—“Better Babies” Contest

(Special Star Correspondence)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 3.—A new and most interesting feature being installed in connection with the State Museum just now is a series of miniature farms and representations of farm equipment of the most improved sort. There is shown an average North Carolina unimproved farm in its dilapidated and unattractive condition and along side this is the same farm equipped with model form home, barns, orchards, dairy and all that goes to make farm life profitable and comfortable as the best equipped town home.

The work of installing these is now well advanced and is being done by Curator Brimley and his chief assistant, T. W. Addick. In connection with these models there will be larger models of the various features of the farm such as the farm home, the barns, the orchards and the like.

Governor Craig issues a pardon for J. W. Gibson, who has served over four years of a five years sentence to the penitentiary for the larceny of $45. The pardon is recommended by numerous citizens of Newbern. The pardon has just been procured by D. L. Ward who was here for the purpose.

New County Talk Revived.

The little city of Enn, Harnett county, has just opened a tobacco market, the opening sales in two new model brick warehouses having taken place yesterday with what is declared to have been a marked degree of success and at prices that were good, though somewhat lower, it is said, than prevailed last year. The news comes from Harnett that there will be a renewal at the 1915 session of the Legislature of the fight for the creation of the new county of Jarvis out of portions of Harnett, Cumberland and other counties. This issue is to figure considerably, it is said, in the approaching election along with some differences as to the stock law that was voted on by the county at the last session of the Legislature.

Moving Into New Quarters.

It is now expected that all the departments of State which are to have quarters in the remodeled Old Supreme Court building now nearing completion will have moved in by October 1. The State Department of Education, which has been on the eleventh floor of the Commercial National Bank building for several months while the remodeling has been in progress, will “move down” toward the last of this month and take ideal new quarters on the second floor of the remodeled building. The Department of Labor and Printing and a portion of the force of the Corporation Commission are already in their new quarters. Other departments to move in are the Department of Insurance, the Department of Health, the Adjutant General of the North Carolina National Guard and his assistants, including the United States army officers detailed to special training service with the North Carolina Guard.

“Better Babies” Contest Again.

Preliminary arrangements are in progress between the State Department of Health and the State Fair management for another “better baby” contest at the approaching fair. The first one was held last year and was quite successful in many respects. However, there were objectionable features such as lack of ample space and special and necessary accommodations and the holding of the contest at the coming fair depends on the possibility of overcoming these objectionable conditions. There is every indication that the contest will be made and the contest pulled off.

North Carolina Leads South.

Within the past few weeks the State Department of Education has mailed to departments of education of all the other states copies of the North Carolina plans and specifications for model public school buildings of various sizes according to the number of teachers required in the particular methods. And now there are coming in to Dr. Joyner, State Superintendent, the heartiest congratulations and expressions of highest approval for these plans and the forward movement that inspired this advance in the work of education in this State. It is pointed out, indeed, that North Carolina has led the entire South and probably the entire country in this forward movement of providing the plans and specifications for model buildings, any where necessary and possible, landing money for the erection of the models furnished. Superintendents of such states as Connecticut and others in the North and West are especially commending the North Carolina plans and ask the privilege of utilizing them in the work in their own states.

May Appeal to Courts.

The Wake county Democratic canvassing board having declared W. H. Sawyer, present city clerk, the nominee for register of deeds for the county, an appeal to the courts by friends and supporters of J. Arch Wood, at present deputy register of deeds, is threatened on the ground that Wood is really the choice of the Wake Democrats and that fraudulent changes in the returns from Caraleigh Mills precinct gave Sawyer his claimed majority of four votes. He has filed a protest with the canvassing board, which voted 22 to 10 that Sawyer be declared the nominee. The board examined the precinct poll holders and re-counted the ballots for themselves, but refused to examine 20 voters who were offered by counsel for Wood to testify that they voted for Wood at Caraleigh. IS NORFOLK SOUTHERN SOON TO CHANGE HANDS?

Such Is the Rumor Current Around Newbern Now

To Be Taken Over by Virginia & Southwestern—Many Believe Rumor Unfounded Like Former Story of Pennsylvania.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Newbern, N. C., Sept. 3.—Owing to the fact that the appropriation for continuing the work in their local machine shops during the month of August was exhausted before the end of the month, the Norfolk Southern Railway Company a week ago gave all of the men employed in the shops a short vacation and closed down the plant. A large number of men were thrown out of employment for the time being but these yesterday returned to the shops and resumed their former employment.

There is a rumor current in this city that the Norfolk Southern is contemplating changing hands and that at no late date the road will be taken over and operated by the Virginia and South Western Railway Company. Local railway officials, however, have nothing to say about this rumored change. However, during the past few weeks several officials of the road have visited this section and made an inspection of the company's line and holdings here.

Some time ago it was rumored that the Pennsylvania Railway Company would take over the road and extend it to Cape Lookout. Nothing came of this rumor and many are of the opinion that such will be the end of the one now going around. The officials of the Norfolk Southern are very optimistic over existing conditions in spite of the fact that both passenger and freight traffic are very light just at this time.

S. H. Leard, general passenger agent, was in Newbern a few days ago making arrangements to operate trains to the Eastern Carolina Fair grounds next month and while here he talked interestingly of the plans which the company have in view for the next few months. In Mr. Leard's opinion business conditions will be in much better shape by the end of the present month and his company is making arrangements to handle a large amount of traffic at that time.

Tobacco Industry a Success.

The opening of the Newbern tobacco market Wednesday and the unusually large and successful sales made at that time has made a most favorable impression among the farmers of this section. During the past few years but little of the seed has been grown in this immediate section and many of the farmers were of the opinion that it could not be successfully grown here. However, when at the beginning of the season it was learned that a warehouse was to be opened in the city, the farmers decided to take a try at a crop and this resulted in a complete success in every way. Men who are thoroughly familiar with tobacco growing have visited a number of farms in Craven, Pamlico, Onslow and Carteret counties and they have stated that the success they have found there is equal if not superior to much of that in the great Piedmont section of the State where tobacco is one of the largest crops. One hundred thousand pounds were on the floor of the local warehouse on the opening day.

Official Returns Showed Only 13 Votes for Wood.

The Raleigh morning paper is insisting that Mr. Sawyer cannot afford to accept the nomination and that if he does it will mean his political death. Wood had a very considerable lead over Sawyer in the country precincts, Sawyer being practically a Raleigh nominee. The situation is one that will have to be adjusted by the party management in order to assure restoration of harmony in party ranks.

Dangerous Trip Through France.

Rev. B. R. Lacy, Jr., son of State Treasurer B. R. Lacy, spent the day here, just back from his trip to Europe. The declaration of war caught him in Switzerland and he made a dash to get through France and across the English channel so that he might sail on the Olympic August 23, having previously engaged his passage. His journey through France after the war excitement and stir was well under way was under the protest of the American consul, who considered such a venture for the son of a prominent man made the trip without special incident.

S. H. Shaw Resigns.

S. H. Shaw has resigned his position here for the past seven years of assistant State horticulturalist in connection with the State Department of Agriculture and will return to Maryland from which he came to take up his work with the North Carolina department. Mr. Shaw has accepted a position as assistant professor of horticulture, bureau of extension, in connection with the Maryland Agricultural College. His connection with the North Carolina department terminated September 1st.

The Receipts of the Raleigh Postoffice.

The receipts of the Raleigh postoffice for the month rounded out $10,571. The receipts for August, 1913, were only $8,752. Postmaster Willis G. Briggs says the business of the Raleigh office increases steadily from month to month.

Hosiery Wanted in England.

Raleigh's largest hosiery mill, the Martin mills, is just in receipt of a proposition from G. Salter, of England, a large dealer of London, offering to handle the output of the Martin mills. Mr. Ernest Martin, president of the mills, insists that there is bound to be a decided improvement in the business of the American mills even if the war conditions should continue indefinitely. The letter received by the Martin Mills is dated August 19 and expresses confidence in the ability of the writer to handle the goods as proposed.

The Internal Revenue Collections for August in the Eastern North Carolina district amounted to $446,352, compared with $493,314 for August a year ago.

Additions to Meredith Faculty.

Meredith College has added Prof. Albert Miltenburg to the faculty as the head of the piano department. He has been teaching for the past ten years in Paris and in New York, dividing his time each year between the two cities. Miss Edna Hall, formerly of Mount Olive College, has also been added to the music faculty as instructor in piano.

Charters Issued

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 3.—A charter is issued for the State Line Warehouse Co., of Gibson, Scotland county, capital $15,000 authorized and $1,000 subscribed for warehousing cotton and issuing negotiable certificates for cotton and other produce. The incorporators include W. T. Pate, A. P. Gibson, and W. N. McKenize. The warehouse is in line with the plans that the Governor's conference of planters, manufacturers and bankers endorsed this week for formation throughout the cotton section of the State.

An amendment to the charter of J. C. Sherrill Co., of Brickton, Henderson county, changes the name to the Brickton Brick Co. D. S. Pace is the president of the corporation.

PETITIONS CONGRESS.

Greensboro Opposed to Purchase of Ships of Heliographic Nations.

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 3.—At a joint meeting of members of the Greensboro chamber of commerce and merchants' association yesterday afternoon, resolutions were adopted petitioning Congress not to pass the bill now pending as to the purchase of ships belonging to any of the nations at war. Although opposition to the resolution was very strong, a division was not called for after the vote had been taken viva voce so that the exact number of those favoring and those opposed could not be ascertained. It is believed that sentiment was nearly evenly divided. The resolutions will be sent to the North Carolina senators and representatives.

EARN "BIG HALF" OF STAKE

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Margaret Druen, 2nd, and the “big half” of the Empire State $10,000 stake for 2:14 trotters at the Grand circuit meeting of the New York State fair today when she won the third and final heat. The first two heats were raced Wednesday. King Coughman, the heavy money winning pacer, took defeat in the first heat. Druen's 2:14 pacer, Napoleon Direct driven by Ed. Sears took the three final heats today after having lost Wednesday.
